

Despite working a full-time, rotating schedule, Gina Behrensprung has delivered meals regularly for 10 years. She says it brings her joy.

Cindy Eckhardt called Fresh Meals On Wheels early last year to inquire about getting meals while she recovered from a broken foot and torn ligaments. She lived alone and wouldn't be able to put weight on her foot for two months, but she wasn't sure if her situation gualified for meal delivery.

We assured Cindy that we could help.

"I am so grateful for Fresh Meals On Wheels. The food is delicious, and the volunteers are so friendly and kind," she said.

"I can't sing Meals On Wheels' praises

Many people mistakenly believe that to deliver meals, they must have a regular schedule with wide-open chunks of time. Not so! Gina Behrensprung has been delivering meals for 10 years and during that time, she has worked a full-time rotating schedule with the Manitowoc Sheriff's Department. Gina has a couple of days off each week, but the days change, so she logs into our online scheduler and signs-up for routes that fit her schedule.

"It's nice to get out of the house on my day off, it gives me something to look forward to," she said.

Gina tries to sign up for the same route each week, so she can get to know the people she delivers to. She says clients who might not say much at first, will often become chattier after they get used to seeing her at their door.

"I call delivering meals a selfish, selfless act. It's good for others, but it's also good for me. It brings me joy," she says.

Gina encourages others to volunteer. "If you have the time, give it a try. It's a wonderful thing," she said.

"Acuity's common purpose begins with the statement, 'With kind hearts, we dare to care,' and supporting our community is one way we show that care," said Ben Salzmann, Acuity CEO, in the release announcing the awards. Over the past 10 years, Acuity has made more than $21 million in charitable contributions.

Acuity has been the premier sponsor for FMOW's June-A-Palooza event for multiple years, supported Love Bowls and its successor event, Soup on Wheels, and provided special meals for clients including a filet mignon meal that recipients still talk about.

"I am so grateful for the Acuity organization and its employees. Their generosity toward Fresh Meals On Wheels and their concern for our clients is truly apreciated," said FMOW CEO Allison Thompson.

2022 Services Organization of the Year

One thing often overlooked by those close to our program, is how successful our team of volunteers, staff, board members and supporters are at fulfilling the mission of Fresh Meals On Wheels.

Every week – even as the number of people served increases – thousands of healthy, homemade meals are deliciously prepared and safely delivered to hundreds of Sheboygan County residents who are in need of good nutrition.

That is why it was such an honor for us to be nominated for TWO Sheboygan County Chamber of Commerce Champions awards: Services Organization of the year and Non-Profit Charity of the year. It was even more exciting to hear our name announced as winner of the 2022 Services Organization of the year!

We are honored to be recognized for hard work undertaken in 2022 to transition our meal program, increase the number of people served and even improve the flavor of the meals being delivered – all while food prices increased and product availability was challenged.

In April our FMOW team was again recognized, this time by the United Way of Sheboygan County as Outstanding Volunteer Board of Directors. I am so grateful for the hard work each board member contributes to ensure our FMOW program remains a leader in the community, and nationally.

I applaud all of you for your support and help in sustaining our program. Because of you, FMOW continues to serve our senior, disabled and homebound neighbors with joy and kindness - and without a waiting list.

If you or someone you know would benefit from meals or would like to volunteer, please visit FreshMealsOnWheels.org or call 920-451-7011.

Gratefully,
